4th hybrid workshop of the International Network on Transcultural Suicidology: Next step for transcultural suicidology

The International Network for Transcultural Suicidology invites you to its 4th hybrid workshop, focusing on recent developments in suicide prevention, intervention measures and research methods in transcultural contexts.

Date: November 19, 12.30-17.00 CET

Venue: Karolinska Institutet, Solna + digitalt

Programme:

12.30	Welcome – Vladimir Carli
12.45	The anthropology of suicide: Cambodian case studies, ethnography, and the implications for cultural responsiveness in global suicidology – Maurice Eisenbruch
13.15	Participatory, arts-based and visual methods in suicide research and prevention in LMICs and among migrant and refugee populations – Erminia Colucci
13.40	Lessons learned from Transcultural Suicidology: Possible implications for suicide prevention and intervention – Iris Graef-Calliess, Vera Mohwinkel
14.00	Questions and discussion
14.20	Break
14.35	Suicidal crises among migrants and native-born individuals: emergency psychiatric consultations in Italy – Eleonora Gambaro
14.50	It is terrible and magical at the same time - a report on the health of young Sámi – Karin Spetz
15.05	IDEAS for Hope, A Telehealth Suicide Prevention Intervention for Adults Living with HIV in Tanzania: Outcomes, Lessons, and Next Steps – Kim Madundo
15.20	Break
15.30	Ethnic differences in risk factors for suicidal ideation in NHANES datasets from 2005–2020 – Dominika Jaruskova
15.45	Finnish mythology, the Kalevala and suicide: stories of despair, unbearable distress and agency – Mona Lindqvist
16.00	Discussion: What is the next step?

More information and registration:

Karolinska Institutet